

What's your business goal?

We find out where you need to communicate more effectively. Then we structure your program to meet your objectives.

How does TLG work?

Face-to-face instruction from native English speakers, plus interactive content on our cutting-edge digital platform.

What if you need to change times?

Simply swap! Enjoy lessons at your office or via video chat or phone at a convenient time. You get every hour you pay for.

How do we inspire, engage and motivate?

Unique methodology. Interactive workshops. Lessons with multiple teachers. Fine-tuning skills like drafting emails and participating in conference calls.

English language training that makes you more effective in your everyday working life.

The Language Grid empowers you with the practical skills you need to communicate with confidence in cross-border business.

How do you track your progress?

We benchmark your learning throughout the process – check how you're doing in real time on our sophisticated digital platform.

Who are our trainers?

Born in English-speaking countries, from the USA to Ireland and NZ. All hold the TEFL certification and have experience of teaching in a company context.

What other opportunities does TLG deliver?

Projects with multinational companies. A range of informal events. Plus connect with peers around the world on our internal social network, The Grid.

And the end result?

100% success rate. Achieve your business objectives and maximize your return on investment in English language training.

